PALITANA STATE—Bombay Presidency.

A second class State in the Gohelwad division of the Kathiawar Political Agency, with an area of 283 square miles. Revenue about Rs. 7 lakhs. The chief town, Palitana, is a station on the Bhavnagar Railway. Palitana is justly celebrated for its Jain temples on the Satrunjaya Hill, situated within the Palitana jurisdiction. This hill is sacred to Adinath, the deified priest of the Jains. The entire summit is covered with temples, amongst which the most famous are those of Adinath Kumar Pal, Vimalakha, Sanipriti Raja and Chaturmukh. The last is the most lofty, and can be clearly distinguished at a distance of 25 miles. Satrunjaya is the most sacred of the five sacred hills of the Jains. Owing to the special sanctity of Satrunjaya, Jains from all parts of India are anxious to construct temples on the Hill, and all members of the faith feel it a duty to perform, if possible, one pilgrimage here during their life. Palitana is chiefly noted for its breed of horses. Population (1911), 61,660

TUTICORIN—Madras Presidency

The Terminus of the South Indian Railway, 448 miles from Madras and the Chief Port of the District, affording good shelter to small boats; but owing to the shallowness of the water, steamers of even moderate draught have to anchor some seven miles from the shore. Tuticorin is also a Municipal town and of great commercial importance. It lies on the Srivaikuntam taluq of the Tinnevely district, and is situated on the West shore of the Gulf of Manaar and between the mouths of the Tambrapani and the Vippar. There are large cotton mills in the town and extensive salt factories; there is limited accommodation for travellers at the Railway Station. Language spoken:—English and Tamil

There is neither a Dak Bungalow nor a Travellers' Rest-house in the town

Thacker, Spink & Co.'s Domestic Publications—4

Banting in India. With some remarks on diet and things in general. By Surgn. Lieut. Col. Joshua Duke, I.M.S. Third Edition. Re. 1-8.

A common-sense health book for residents in India.

Banting up-to-date. By the Author of "A Bobbery Pack in India." Rs. 2.

Full of sound advice on how to keep fit and reduce superfluous fat.

Practical Hints on the Preservation of Health in India. By Lieut.-Col. Ranking, I.M.S. Re. 1.

A pocket book giving the rules of health which are essential to careful living in this country.

Medical Hints for Hot Climates and for those out of reach of Professional Aid. With Diagrams for Bandaging. By Charles Heaton, M.R.C.S. Re. 1-8.

A handbook for medical reference in the home—particularly in out-of-the-way mofussil stations.

Birch's Hints for the Management and Medical Treatment of Children in India. Rs. 7-8.

The Pioneer says: "It is a book which ought to be found in every household."

Handbook for Wives and Mothers in India and the Tropics. Second Edition. By Dr. Mildred Saley, M.B. Rs. 4.

Tells in plain simple language the knowledge a married woman should have for her own health and her children.

Flowers and Gardens in India. By Mrs. R. Temple-Wright. Sixth Edition. With special Chapters on Lawns and Rose Cultivation in India. By H. J. Davies, F.L.S., F.R.S.A., F.R.H.S., Superintendent, Government Horticultural Gardens, Lucknow. Crown 8vo. Rs. 3-8.

The scope and usefulness of this little book has been enlarged by the inclusion of valuable chapters on the care and cultivation of Lawns and Roses in India, subjects scarcely touched upon in any other book on Indian Gardening.

Gardening in the Plains. By Mrs. J. H. Peck. Re. 1.

A practical cheap handbook.

Gollan's Indian Vegetable Gardening. By Norman Gill, F.L.S. Third Edition. Rs. 2.

Originally written for soldiers, now enlarged with a chapter on flowering annuals.

A Bird Calendar for Northern India. From Bengal to the Punjab. By Douglas Dewar, Author of "Birds of the Plains," etc. Rs. 5.

The Civil and Military Gazette says: "Full of fascinating interest. . . . we will do no more than to recommend it heartily to all bird-lovers."

The Garden and Aviary Birds of India. By Frank Finn, B.A., F.Z.S., M.B.O.U. Illustrated. Rs. 3-8.

The vade mecum for all who desire some knowledge of the common or garden birds of India.

Birds of Calcutta. By Frank Finn, B.A., F.Z.S., M.B.O.U. Third Edition, 1917. Illustrated. Rs. 2-4.

One of the most enjoyable books on bird life in this country, which reveals an intimacy charming beyond description.

Canary-keeping in India. By Isa Tweed. Illustrated. Rs. 2-8.

A good investment for the canary-keeper. It will put money into his pocket.

Indian Notes About Dogs: Their Diseases and Treatment. By Major C—. Re. 1-8.

Indian Horse Notes. By Major C—. Rs. 2-8.

The above two books are great favourites, being really practical. "Horse Notes" contains the unusual feature of a chapter on betting and how to "make a book."

Dogs for Hot Climates. By Vero Shaw and Capt. M. H. Hayes. Illustrated. Second Edition. Rs. 3.

A most reliable guide for dog-fanciers and dog-owners in India.

Notes on Stable Management in India and the Colonies. By Vety.-Capt. J. A. Nunn, F.R.C.V.S., C.I.E., D.S.O., with Hindustani glossary. Second Edition. Re. 1.

An eminently practical little book giving sound advice on everything pertaining to the proper care of horses in India.

Guide to Examination of Horses for Soundness. For Students and Beginners. By J. Moore, F.R.C.V.S., Army Vety. Dept. Revised by Lieut.-Colonel A. Smith, Principal, Bengal Veterinary College, Calcutta. Re. 1.

A handy little book which every horse-owner should keep for reference when buying or selling.

. CO-OPERATION IN INDIA

BY

H. W. WOLFF,

*Late President of the International Co-operative Alliance, Author of "People's Banks: A record of social and economic success," "Co-operative Banking:
Its principles and practice," "Co-operation in Agriculture" and other works.*

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS.

"This extensive work, based on a close acquaintance with the Co-operative movement in India, during the last quarter of a century, is by a keen advocate of the principle (late President of the International Co-operative Alliance). He deals closely with the methods and special difficulties, the varied spheres of the Co-operation which he would like to see developed in India."—The Times.

"This book should be read by all who are interested in the economic development of India and other countries where similar conditions prevail.

".....He writes with authority as an ex-President of the International Co-operative Alliance."—The Near East, July 11, 1919.

"India presents one of the most interesting phases of the Co-operative movement, and the author of this comprehensive book, who has been President of the International Alliance, is very well informed upon it."—Book Monthly, July, 1919.

"There is probably no one living who knows so much about the principles and practice of Co-operative Banking and Co-operation generally as Mr. H. W. Wolff. It was to him that the Indian Government went for advice in drawing up the Co-operative Societies Act of 1904; and they could not have had a more sane and competent adviser. In this book Mr. Wolff not merely gives an account of the results actually attained in India, but makes a candid and useful enquiry into some of the difficulties which have been met with and against which the system has still to contend, and reinforces his argument by a survey of the experiences of other countries."—The Westminster Gazette.

THE ROMANCE OF THE LAND OF PAGODAS

A BURMESE ENCHANTMENT

A Descriptive Account of Burma, its Peoples, Customs, and their Ideals.

BY CAPTAIN C. M. ENRIQUEZ,

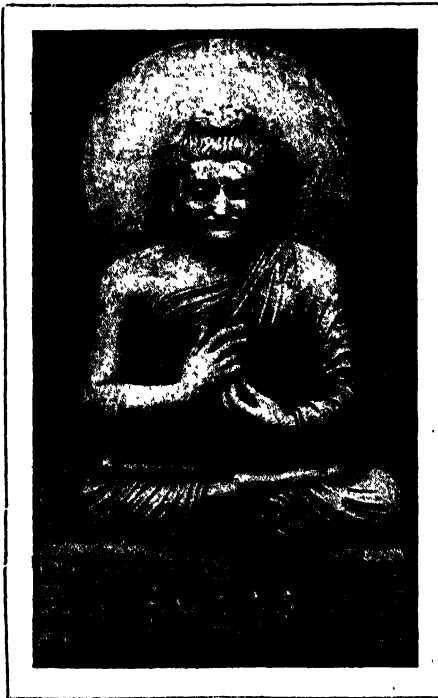

Author of 'The Realm of the Gods,' etc.

Q One of the most attractive features of Captain Enriquez's book on Burma is its genuine pleasure in the country and its people. Many books have been written descriptive of Burma which strike the note of romantic attractiveness, yet leaving suspicion that the romance was thought to be a paying proposition in the book market rather than felt as a real quality of the country. There is no question of that with a book by Captain Enriquez. He has lived in the country, stationed in various parts of it, for several years, and has made a first-hand study of all of which he writes. It is impossible for the reader not to be convinced that the author has found a deep attraction in Burma, a conviction which is sustained by the matter of fact and humorous way in which most of the descriptions are given. . . .

His powers of concise description are considerable Graphic touches are numerous. . . .

people, the military posts, and the life of the military police in these outposts of empire. His description is the best yet published, in the sense of being the most easily accessible, the most up to date, and the most generally informative.—Rangoon Gazette.

A BUDDHA IMAGE.

The author has picked up numerous quaint and interesting items of information or lore

His sympathy extends to the wild life of nature, and he has some lively and engaging passages on this topic. . . . The illustrations are reproductions of photographs taken by the author himself and are well chosen. Included is a sketch map of Burma, or the parts of it which are dealt with in the book.

To many readers, especially those who know a considerable amount about Burma already and therefore feel no longer the charm of novelty in descriptions of ordinary objects, the most interesting part of the book will be the account of the north-eastern frontier, the political situation there, the

"THE LEADING ENGINEERING AND INDUSTRIAL JOURNAL OF INDIA"

"Able and refreshingly edited..... Well printed and illustrated.....
An Influential Technical Journal."—Vide Indian Press.

INDIAN INDUSTRIES AND POWER.

(INCORPORATING "INDIAN MOTOR NEWS.")

The first and only Journal to deal exclusively with Motoring and Automobilism in the East.

THIS JOURNAL offers the finest medium for Home Manufacturers', Engineers', and Traders' Advertisements. It is a well illustrated monthly and has been published for the past seventeen years in Bombay and Calcutta. It is owned and controlled by Europeans. It widely circulates in the most influential, commercial, and industrial centres of India, Burma and Ceylon. It is subscribed for by Government Offices, Universities, Civil, Mechanical and Electrical Engineers, Manufacturers, and the great Mercantile Houses. It is well printed and illustrated on the best Art paper. It is quoted frequently by the leading technical and trade journals of the world as an authority. Resident correspondents contribute articles monthly on the monthly progress of the various provinces.

"INDIAN MOTOR NEWS" is a section that has grown rapidly. Every month recognised specialists actively engaged in India and from overseas discuss everything relating to Commercial Motor Traction, Automobilism and Aeronautics. This paper was the first in the East to deal exclusively with Automobile interest and is now supported by the leading Automobile Engineers and Motor Houses.

The Advertising pages offer excellent value and business houses are invited to write to any advertiser in its pages for confirmation of this statement. The advertisements are well displayed and every attention is given to advertisers' requirements.

Invalid Cookery. By Miss Pearson and Mrs. Byrde. Re. 1.

A little book that will be found very necessary in emergencies.

Sweets and How to Make Them. By Miss Pearson and Mrs. Byrde. Re. 1.

Sweets-making is not difficult, as this book shows.

Bread, Butter, Pastries, and Cakes in India and the Colonies. By Mrs. Byrde and Miss Pearson. Second Edition, Enlarged. Rs. 2.

A concise manual for the use of housewives.

The Warren Hastings Book of Indian Condiments. Containing 100 Recipes of Chutneys and Pickles collected in the old John Company's days. Re. 1.

Some rare choice old recipes have been brought together in this book which should add considerably to the pleasures of the Indian table.

The Indian Cookery Book. Vol. I.—English; Vol. II.—Hindustani (Persian Character). Rs. 3 each.

The oldest, but still the best, Indian Cookery Book.

Every Day Menus for India. By W. S. Burke. Rs. 2.

An indispensable help to householders and chummeries throughout India. It contains Menus for the rainy season, the hot season, and the cold, as well as a great deal of miscellaneous information.

Camp Cookery. By "Kildeer." Re. 1.

A useful little handbook just published. Huntsmen and picnic-parties will appreciate it.

Baker and Cook. A Domestic Manual for India. By Mrs. R. Temple-Wright, Author of "Flowers and Garden." Third Edition. Revised and Enlarged with some recipes for cool fruit drinks suitable for India. Rs. 2-8.

"The outcome of long experience and many patient experiments."—Pioneer.

"No better authority on matters relating to the kitchen and all that pertains to cuisine is to be found than Mrs. Temple-Wright."—Englishman.

Simple Menus and Recipes for Camp, Home, and Nursery, containing Menus and Recipes for Meals in Camp, Afternoon Teas, Station Dinners, Meals for Children, and many Useful Hints for Housewives in India. Second Edition. Revised and Enlarged. By Lucy Carne. Rs. 3-8.

"A special feature is the Meals for Children, an original departure we do not recollect ever having seen in any other book devoted to the culinary art."—The Indian Field.

Things for the Cook. By "Shalot." Vol. I.—English; Vol. II.—Hindustani (Persian Character). Rs. 2 each.

Recipes collected by a successful mess president.

Queries at a Mess Table. What shall I eat! What shall I drink! By Lt.-Col. Duke, I.M.S. Re. 1.

Useful Hints by Experienced Mem-sahibs. Compiled by L.A. Hodgkinson and L. M. Marshall with the kindly help of a large number of ladies. Re. 1.

 Every resident in India should have this little book at his or her elbow. A mine of information for housewife, gardener, bachelor, and married man.

The Mem-sahib's Manual: Being an Easy Guide to Learning Hindustani, with some advice on Health and the Household. By A. K. D. H. Re. 1.
